

Introduction

This interview preparation module is a one-stop solution for aspiring web developers and full-stack professionals. It is meticulously designed to equip students with the knowledge, skills, and confidence required to crack interviews at top companies. The module is structured into three key sections, each targeting a critical aspect of the interview preparation journey.

What's Inside the Module?

1. Overview of the Job Landscape

Gain a clear understanding of the opportunities available in web development and full-stack development roles. This section covers:

- Popular job roles in the industry.
- Insights into the hiring processes of leading companies.
- Companies actively hiring for web development roles, both in India and globally.

2. Practice and Preparation

Prepare like a pro with a wealth of resources designed to enhance your technical and problem-solving skills. This section includes:

- Articles on core and advanced web development topics.
- Practice interview questions ranging from easy to hard, curated to match real-world scenarios.
- Hands-on coding challenges to sharpen your development skills.

3. Mock Interview Experience

Test your readiness with simulated interviews that mimic actual hiring processes. This section provides:

- Mock coding interviews to assess your problem-solving abilities.
- Technical and behavioral interview simulations to evaluate your preparedness.

- Feedback and progress tracking to identify areas for improvement.

Why This Module?

This preparation module offers a holistic approach to interview readiness. Whether you're a beginner looking to understand the industry or an experienced developer aiming to level up, this module ensures you are well-prepared for the challenges of securing a full-stack or web development role.
